

Panto time at the King's Theatre Southsea (oh no it's not, oh yes it is)

4pm on Sunday 10th December 2017

PIPSA (Padnell Infants) have once again been able to secure vastly reduced price tickets for this fantastic pantomime. It should be a fun, festive and entertaining afternoon for all the family, which most of us have enjoyed before.

The tickets are available at a reduced priced at £18.50 per person (this includes an admin and handling charge) the normal cost of tickets for right side stalls are £27.50 child and £29.50 adult (plus a handling fee of more than £1 per ticket), so you save £9 and £11 respectively! Family and friends are also welcome to join us.

Please note transport is not included and you will need to arrange your own way to and from the theatre. Tickets will be allocated as always on a "first come, first served" basis.

Please complete and return the slip by Friday 24th November. Please return the slip with your payment via your child's book bag in an envelope marked PIPSA. Cheques made payable to PIPSA please!

Many thanks.
